Home Musical Library.

List 1. -- Books of Vocal Music.

The following books embrace nearly, if not all, the really good and popular music that has ever been published in sheet music form. The immense stock which the publishers carry, includes all the salable music, and their facilities for the compilation of books of this nature, together with the experience and knowledge of those used to handling music in this form, give them extraordinary advantages in making a selection of those which will prove most popular, of lasting merit, and of an acceptable nature.—Each book of the HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY contains from 200 to 250 pages, of full sheet music size. All accompaniments may be played either on the Piano or Reed Organ. Price of each book: in boards, $2.00; in cloth, $2.50; full gilt, $3.00.

The Sunshine of Song.

This book, comprising some 200 pages, and 68 songs, was published in the winter of 1877-78, and the variety of songs, in many cases with choruses, which can be found here, seem to be well suited to the popular taste, which is ever eager for something fresh, new and entertaining. We think that this book fills the bill very acceptably.

CONTENTS.

Ah ! this heart with joy.	Little old cabin.
Bonnie Jean.	Lonely, oh, so lonely !
Chime again.	Nancy Lee.
Close your eyes tenderly.	Nearer, sweet lips.
Cow bells in the lane.	Old home.
Darling, let me dream again.	Only a flower.
Don't let my mother die.	Room for all.
Early in the mornin'.	Speak softly.
Yes like violets.	Sweet Robin.
Is there room in heaven?	'Tis home.
	Weep not, Mother.
	and 45 others.

Beauties of Sacred Song.

This is a brilliant addition to the Home Musical Library, and comprises a wealth of "sacred song" by such composers as Handel, Abt, Gounod, Sullivan, Thomas, Pinsuti and others. There are 58 pieces, with piano accompaniment, and may be played on the organ if desired. There are :—

There's a green hill far away.	Safe home at last.
Above the Stars.	Angels' Greeting.
Angels ever bright.	He wipes the tears from every eye.
Palm branches.	There be the kingdom
No Crown without a Cross.	O rest in the Lord.

Moore's Irish Melodies.

By a felicitous combination of the forces of the poet Moore, and the composer Stevenson, the best types of the songs of Ireland have been collected and arranged in a pleasing form, and have become justly celebrated. They have been largely translated into foreign languages, and wherever played or sung, are especially noteworthy for the pure, sweet English, set to music, whose harmony of sound and action proclaim the work of a skilled master.

The World of Song.

A book of 250 large pages, embracing a world of variety, from the pens of such well-known composers as Millard, Engelbrecht, Abt, Sullivan, Danks, Bishop, Webster, Blake, Pinsuti, Foster, Brockway, Pratt, Molloy, Campana, Claribel, Hunt, Hawthorne. and others of equal reputation.

It contains a host of sparkling little gems.

PART OF THE CONTENTS.

And eyes will watch for thee.	Heart bowed down.
And so will I.	Kissing through the bars.
Angels whisper good-night.	Little brown cot.
Beautiful Lena.	Maggie's answer.
Beautiful love.	Massa's in the cold ground.
Bloom is on the rye.	Mistletoe bough.
Breathe again those sweet words.	Mother says I must n't.
	My heart's best love.
	and 80 others.

Operatic Gems.

In this book of 223 pages will be found a very beautiful collection of the choicest operatic gems, taken from the most popular operas and arranged for parlor use. It is of the same general tenor as "Operatic Pearls," although in most respects comprising selections of a somewhat easier and popular nature. There are 76 pieces, of which we mention :—

Celestial Aida.	Ah, little thought !
When the fair land of Po-	Robert, my beloved !

Franz's Album of Song.

OLD AND NEW. A very fine volume of songs by Robert Franz, including many of his more recent compositions, with which he has favored us during the past few years. These songs are highly classic compositions, and will be best appreciated by those whose musical tastes have been carefully cultivated. It has 278 large pages, and contains over 100 songs with both English and German text. We select a few from their number :—

Birdling, whither thy flight ? (Vöglein wohin so schnell ?)	Geibel.
Comes my love to-day ? (Kommt mein Liebchen heut' ?)	Heine.
Dance Song in May (Tanzlied im Mai)	v. Fallersleben.
Dear little maiden mine (Herziges Schätzle du !)	Osterwald.
Farewell (Gute Nacht)	v. Eichendorff.
Forsake thee (Dich Meiden)	Volkstedt.
Lovely Maid (Liebliche Maid)	Burns.
Song of the Night (Nachtlied)	Geibel.
Summer (In) (Im Sommer)	Göthe.
Wanderer's Song (Wanderlied)	Osterwald.
Within thine eyes reflected (Ich hab' in Deinem Auge)	Rückert.

Household Melodies.

VOLUME I.

The HOUSEHOLD MELODIES, divided into two volumes, each of some two hundred pages or more, and embracing some 75 songs, duets, and choruses in each volume, is largely made up of simple melodies, from the pens of such well-known American composers as to make them adapted to humble homes, as well as to "let sunshine into the hearts of many" who make more pretension to a higher and deeper knowledge of music. We append a few titles of the many bright things to be found within its covers :—

Abide with me.	Let the sunshine in.
Angel voices.	Little Sweetheart.
Blue-eyed Nell.	My wee wife.
Beautiful waves.	O ! Miss Susie.
Crushed flowers.	Please make room.
Dream of love.	Shall we meet again.
Dying Hymn.	Shores are fading.
Forsaken.	Thinking of thee.
Gone awa'.	When little Mamie died
I love thee.
	and 55 others.

Household Melodies.

VOLUME II.

As has been said in noticing Vol. I, a large variety of the compositions of American song writers, of good repute, and well known to all lovers of simple and taking music, will be found within the pages of both volumes. A few foreign composers of acknowledged ability add spice to a spicy collection, and make the work all the more valuable as a treasure-book of sweet and beautiful melodies. Some of them are :

Allie darling.	Danks.
Bring back my child.	Hays.
Don't be jealous.	Torry.
Good bye.	Leighton.
Is mother there ?	Hays.
Let not your heart.	Stewart.
Oh, these men !	Thomas.
Scatter sweet flowers.	Danks.
Sweet Angel.	Thomas.
The little log cabin.	Hays.
The Vesper Bells.	Danks.
True as steel.	Stewart.
Wanderer's return.	Glover.
Will you meet me ?	Stewart.
You'll forget me.	Danks.

Home Musical Library.

List 2. -- Books of Vocal Music -- Continued.

The books mentioned below, together with those contained in List 1, comprise all the books of Vocal Music of the HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY. They contain all the best and most popular music which has ever been published in sheet music form, carefully selected, and bound in convenient and uniform size and style. Each book contains from 200 to 250 pages, sheet music size, and will be sent, post-paid, for $2.00 in boards; $2.50 in cloth; $3.00 in full gilt.

— All accompaniments may be played either on the Piano or Reed Organ. —

THE SILVER CHORD.

This is the first published collection of vocal music of the series, and contains much that is old and well known, but which, however, has lost little or nothing by repetition. In this age of musical novelty, it is sometimes pleasant to return to old friends, who have been tried and found true. In this respect, at least, the Silver Chord will always be found acceptable.—200 pages.

CONTENTS.

Ah, I have sighed to rest.	In whispers soft and light.
Ask me not why.	Kathleen Mavourneen.

and about 150 others.

GEMS OF GERMAN SONG.

The vocal compositions of the German masters, which, by reason of their remarkable beauty, have been christened "Gems of German Song," and which have slowly increased from year to year, have been embodied in a collection, under the above caption, containing one hundred of the choicest gems, bound in sheet music size. The English and German words are both given, and cover some 200 pages.

GEMS OF SCOTTISH SONG.

The beautiful Scotch ballads which, from time immemorial, have been sung by Highland lads and lasses, and which to-day still retain their original sweetness and beauty, are replete with words and music as spirited as they are romantic. Only the very choicest of "auld Scotia's" songs have been brought together in this volume, and each one is entirely first-class—truly characteristic of the wild music of bonnie brave Scotland. 200 pages.

PART I.

Elementary Principles of Music.

In naming the different tones, we employ the first seven letters of the alphabet, viz: A, B, C, D, E, F, G. When a melody exceeds these seven tones, they are repeated or extended, as far as may be required.

OF THE STAVE.

The notes are written on or between five parallel lines, called a Stave. The intervals between the lines are called spaces. Both lines and spaces are numbered from the bottom of the stave upwards; thus:

Small lines, called Leger lines, are written above or below the stave, when those of the stave are insufficient; thus:

The notes are distinguished by their position on the stave. To establish their names, it is also necessary that a sign, called a Clef, should be used. There are two kinds of clefs used in music. The treble or G clef  only, is made use of in compositions for the banjo, and is placed at the beginning of the stave; thus:

LETTERS ON THE STAVE.

LETTERS ON THE LEGER LINES.

LETTERS IN SPACES.

COMPLETE TABLE OF THE RELATIVE VALUE OF THE NOTES.

A Whole Note

Is equal to two Half Notes,

A Half note is equal to two Quarter notes.

Or to four Quarter Notes,

A quarter, to two Eighth notes.

Or eight Eighth notes.

An eighth, to two Sixteenth notes.

Or sixteen Sixteenth Notes.

A sixteenth, to two Thirty-second notes.

Or thirty-two Thirty-second notes.

Thirty-second notes.

OF THE RESTS.

Rests, in a composition, show the music ceases to be performed during intervals of time. They afford repose to the player, and aid in producing musical effects. The rests have values corresponding to those of the notes; thus, a whole rest is equal to a whole note; a half rest, to a half note; a quarter rest, to a quarter note, etc., etc.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF RESTS.

VALUE OF THE DOT AND DOUBLE DOT.

A dot, placed after a note, increases its value one half. When a second dot is added to the first, the value is equal to half the first dot.

DOUBLE DOTS.

SIGNS OF THE SINGLE AND DOUBLE BAR.

Music is divided into short and equal portions, called measures, by small bars, drawn perpendicularly across the stave. The measures are themselves considered as divisible into two, three, or four parts, according to the species of time announced at the beginning of each piece.

EXAMPLE OF THE MEASURE.

The main divisions in a piece of music, are called strains, and they are expressed by a Double Bar; thus:

When dots are placed before the Double Bar, thus: they show that the division previous to it is to be repeated. When dots are placed after a Double Bar, thus: the division following it is repeated.

THE PAUSE, &c.

The Pause is placed over notes and rests, and denotes that the performer may dwell upon the note as long as he thinks proper. When a pause is placed over a double bar, it shows the end of the piece. Da Capo, or D. C., indicates that the performer must begin the piece again, and end at the first double bar, or continue to the word Fine. The sign indicates that the performer must return to the first sign and end as in the D. C.

TIME.

There are three kinds of Time; namely, Common time, when each measure contains two or four equal parts; and Triple time, when each measure contains three equal parts; compound time, when each measure contains six or more parts. Common time is marked by the letter C, and by figures. Triple and compound time, by figures only.

The letter C signifies that each measure contains the value of a whole note. When figures are used, thus:

they signify that each measure contains such fractional part of a whole note, as the figures indicate.

The upper figure shows the number of parts, or counts; the lower figure the kind of note to each part or count.

SHARP, FLAT, AND NATURAL.

The Sharp (\sharp) is a sign which raises a note a semitone. The Flat (\flat) lowers a note a semitone; and the Natural (\natural) restores a note that has been affected by a \sharp or \flat to its original sound. A \sharp or \flat placed before a note is called an Accidental, and affects all the notes of the same name throughout the measure in which it occurs.

When sharps and flats are placed at the beginning of a piece of music, they affect all the notes of the same name throughout the piece. The sharps and flats at the beginning of a piece are called the Signature.

There are as many sharps and flats as there are notes. The sharps are placed, beginning with $F\sharp$, by fifths ascending, and by fourths, descending. The flats are placed, beginning with $B\flat$, by fourths, ascending, and by fifths, descending.

Each major key has its relative minor. It is called relative because it is marked at the clef by the same number of sharps or flats as its principal key, except the key of C major and its relative, A minor, which have no signature. The relative key is a minor third below its principal key. To know whether we are in the principal key of the major mode, or in its relative minor, it is necessary to examine whether the fifth of the major key is accidentally altered by a sharp or natural; if not, we are in the principal major key; if it is altered, we are in the relative minor.

OF THE TRIPLET.

The Triplet is a group of three notes, over which the figure 3 is placed, and played in the time of two of the same denomination.

OF THE SLUR.

The slur is indicated by this sign, , placed over or under the notes that are to be slurred. They are performed both ascending and descending. Examples:—

SLURS OF TWO NOTES, ASCENDING AND DESCENDING.

Play the E, and let the first finger strike quickly on the F, &c. Play the F, and draw the finger one side, sounding E, &c.

GRACE NOTES, OR APPOGGIATURAS.

Grace Notes, or Appoggiaturas, are small notes placed before the larger notes, and are to be played as quick as possible, joining them to the note before which they are written. They do not affect the regular time of the measure in which they occur.

Directions for Stringing the Banjo.

The 1st should be a fine E string.

The 2d, a thick E string.

The 3d, a guitar B string.

The 4th should be a regular Banjo A string, very fine, and spun on silk.

The 5th should be a fine E, same as 1st.

Of the Barre.

In making the Barre Chord, place the forefinger firmly across the width of the finger-board. The thumb placed in the centre of the back of the neck, so that the fore-finger presses firmly down, thereby preventing the slightest vibration of the strings. The figures, in front or behind the notes, indicate the fingers of the left hand.

Barre Chords.

Manner of Holding the Banjo.

Rest the rim of the Banjo on the right thigh, the upper portion resting upon the right breast, the neck elevated on a level with the left shoulder, and resting in the hollow of the left hand, between the thumb and forefinger, the right forearm resting on the rim of the instrument, about three inches from the tail-piece, the palm of the hand being directly over the bridge.

Signs for Fingering with Right Hand.

Partly close the right hand in the form of a C, the thumb to project slightly in advance, the fingers should pick up the strings towards the palm of the hand. For the first finger, one dot is represented, thus : . for the second finger, two dots, : and for the thumb, a x.

Signs for Fingering with Left Hand.

Figures above or below the staff, 1, 2, 3, 4, indicate the fingers employed to stop the strings. When two figures or more appear over a note, the upper one has reference to the fret, and the lower ones to the fingers. The O stands for an open string.

How to Tune the Banjo.

Tune the 4th string to an A tuning fork or pitch pipe (they can be purchased at any music store), then place the finger on the 4th string at the 7th fret, making the tone E, and tune the 3d string in unison. Place the finger on the 3d string, at the 4th fret, making G \sharp , and tune the 2d string in unison; then place the finger on the 2d string, at the third fret, making B, and tune the first string in unison; then place the finger on the 1st string, at the 5th fret, which gives the tone E, and tune the 5th string in unison.

The banjo, in tune, will produce the following notes on the open strings:

Diagram of the Finger-Board of the Banjo.

Lessons on Time.

Count four to each measure.

Transposition of the Keys or Scale.

When C is taken as 1, the scale is said to be in its natural position; but either of the other letters may be taken as 1, in which case, the scale is said to be Transposed.

As 1 is the basis of the scale (the foundation on which it rests), so the letter which is taken for this sound is called the Key-Note. Thus, if the scale be in its natural position, it is said to be in the Key of C; if G be taken as 1, the scale is in the key of G; if D be taken as 1, the scale is in the key of D; and so on, with the rest of the seven letters. Whichever letter is taken as 1, that letter becomes the key-note of the scale.

In transposing the scale, the order of the intervals, or tones and semitones, must be preserved. Thus, the interval must always be a tone from 1 to 2, a tone from 2 to 3, a semitone from 3 to 4, a tone from 4 to 5, a tone from 5 to 6, a tone from 6 to 7, and a semitone from 7 to 8. The interval from one letter to another is always the same, and cannot be changed; thus, it is always a tone from C to D, and from D to E; a semitone from E to F; a tone from F to G, from G to A, from A to B; and a semitone from B to C. In the transposition of the scale, therefore, it becomes necessary to introduce sharps and flats, or to substitute sharped or flatted letters for the natural letters, so as to preserve the proper order of the intervals.

A scale, generally speaking, is a succession of seven notes ascending or descending, which consists of five tones and semitones.

Sure he'd butt at a stranger, but never a neighbor;
Sure they could not take him to the pound.
Oh, his right name was Willie, but I called him Billy,
He was my companion, on him sure I'd doat;
So fond of sun-flowers, and daffy-down-dillies,
Was my favorite pet, oh, my buck Billy goat!—CHO.

5 His white hairs were silken, they hung long and drooping;
He travelled some time with Mike Reagan's big Nan;
If a child in the neighborhood took on a crooping,
He'd halt and he'd gaze like a man.

Wid his horns he would puck them a terrible smote;
The long years and days it took me for to rear him,
Oh, my favorite pet, oh, my buck Billy goat!—CHO.

SPOKEN AFTER 1ST VERSE. When you are in love, and sitting on some romantic cliff, by the light of the moon you gaze in the girl's face, and imagine how much powder and rouge she has been putting on; and she's thinking at the same time, "what expressive eyes; how his nose turns up, and I think I should love him a little more if it was a Roman;" and the moon is winking at you and seems to say,—CHORUS.

SPOKEN AFTER 2D VERSE. Now don't, don't you see the man? What man? Why the man in the moon! He's laughing at us. But one; just one, dear! No, no!—CHORUS.

SPOKEN AFTER 3D VERSE. It was a dream; I was not at Dover Cliffs, sitting with a girl by moonlight. I was in bed at Brixton with a rushlight shining upon me, and dreaming it was the moon, and my darling Matilda saying,—CHORUS.

HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY.

LIST 3.—BOOKS OF INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

The superior advantages derived from the immense stock which the publishers are compelled to carry, including all the music that is available, coupled with the fact that only those who have been accustomed to note the sales of music as it is published from time to time, can have any practical knowledge as to what constitutes the best and most popular songs and pieces for permanent preservation, enables them to place before the public, in the books which are embodied in the lists of instrumental and vocal music, which make up the HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY, a very large proportion of all the really good music ever published in sheet music form, in sufficient variety to satisfy the tastes of the most fastidious.

Each book of the HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY has from 200 to 250 pages, which are of full sheet music size.

— Price of each book: Boards, $2.00; Cloth, $2.50; Full gilt, $3.00. —

THE MUSICAL FAVORITE.

A choice collection of pianoforte music, by the best-known composers, such as Mack, Grobe, Maylath, Strauss, Lamothe, Waldteufel, Coote, Wilson, Aubert and others. A new and most excellent collection of popular music, of medium difficulty.

CONTENTS.

Boccaccio March.	Scotch Lassie Jean.
Charming Waltzes.	Solitude.
Cradle Song.	Song without Words.
Kiss Waltz. ("Merry War.")	Tres-Jolie Waltz.
Menuet de la Cour.	Women's Love Waltz,
Old Folks at Home. (Variations.)	and 40 others.
Sirenes (Les) Waltzes.

THE CLUSTER OF GEMS.

A large share of the pieces contained in this collection have been published in "La Crème de la Crème," a popular monthly periodical and are more especially adapted for advanced players. They are of convenient length, about five pages, and are of that even degree of musical beauty, that it is not easy to discriminate as to which is the best.

CONTENTS.

Adieu. Nocturne.	Gracieuse. Morceau.
Alice. Romance.	He loves me. (Il m'aime.)
Canzonetta Veneziana.	Home again. (Heimkehr.)
Clochette d'Or. Caprice.	Magic Bells. Reverie.
Confidence.	Sad is my heart. Tans.
Danse Circassienne.	Shower of Gold. Morceau.
Fifth Nocturne.	'Tis thus ordained.
Floridiana. Valse Brilliant.	Wedding March,
Fresh Life. (Frisches Leben.)	and others of similar character.

GEMS OF THE DANCE.

Companion to the celebrated "Gems of Strauss." Johann and Edward Strauss, Gangl, Lamothe, Zikoff, Bela, Mack, Stasny, Weingarten, Ghis, Pratt, Parlow, Faust, Godfrey, and other celebrities have contributed to make the "Gems of the Dance" a most brilliant volume.

CONTENTS.

Adieux (Les).	Giroflé-Girofla.
Blue Bird Echo.	Jolly Fellows.
Consequenzen.	Kaufman's Casino.
Devil's Call.	Kutschke.
Fairy Fingers.	Roses (Les).
First Kiss.	Slumber,
From a distant shore.	and 60 others.

WELCOME HOME.

A judicious selection of a large variety of beautiful Waltzes, Marches, Polkas, Galops, etc., etc., from the best works of acknowledged masters, makes this fine book welcome at home and abroad, at any and all times. Its 224 well filled pages are worth a careful study.

CONTENTS.

Amazon March.	Knight Waltzes.
Away Galop.	La Murska Waltz.
Blue Eyes Redowa.	Little Sunshine March.

Farewell.	Strauss' Dream Waltz.
Faust Waltz.	Up and down Galop.
First Smile Redowa.	Vale of Roses,
Hunter's Favorite.	and 50 others.

PEARLS OF MELODY.

A brilliant collection of 224 pages of piano music for moderately advanced players. The music is worthy of great praise, for its harmony of sound and action, and will be found so easily difficult, at the same time, deeply tinged with such rare melody, as to prove a strong incentive to the ambitious student to become the master, that he may reap the full benefits of a thorough comprehension of such pearls of melody.

CONTENTS.

Andio.	Chime of Bells.	Laughing Wave.	Mother's Prayer.
Alice Mazurka.	Dance Cubaine.	Listen to me.	Sunny Home.
Angel's Dream.	Golden Chimes.	Love's Greeting.	and 40 others

GEMS OF STRAUSS.

Johann Strauss stands preëminent amid the most brilliant composers in the great world of music, and in this book, the sale of which is counted by thousands, the most brilliant of his exquisite compositions have been collated, forming a combination extending over 250 pages, unrivalled by any other collection of its kind.

CONTENTS.

Academic.	Dragoon Fly.
Adeline.	First Flirtation.
Alice.	Leap Year.
Apollo.	Love and pleasure.
Aquarellen.	One heart, one soul.
Arm in arm.	Orpheus.
Baden Baden.	Ostrich Feather.
Beautiful Blue Danube.	Sans Souci,
Carnival Botschater.	and more than 70 others.

PIANIST'S ALBUM.

220 pages, sheet music size. Originally designated as the third volume of the Home Circle, similar in design, but entirely dissimilar as to contents, the Pianist's Album retains its own identity, and contains a number of what may be more particularly called Piano-forte pieces, of medium length and a fair degree of difficulty. The collection contains a goodly portion of the most successful music ever published, and will be productive of much pleasure and profit to the possessor.

CONTENTS.

Blue-bird Polka Redowa.	Lily of the valley.
Bonnie Doon.	Mabel Waltzes.
Corinthian. Waltz.	Mocking-bird Waltz.

HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY.

LIST 4.—BOOKS OF INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.—CONTINUED.

The books which have been mentioned in List 3, together with the following books, comprise all the books of Instrumental Music, and with the books of Vocal Music described in Lists 1 and 2, make over 30 different and distinct volumes of music, which have been published under the name of the HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY. All the essentially good and popular music which has ever been issued in sheet music form is embodied in these rare collections, bound in uniform size and style. Each book is complete in itself, has from 200 to 250 pages, full sheet music size, and will be mailed to any address, post-free, for the retail price.

— Price of each book: Boards, $2.00; Cloth, $2.50; Full gilt, $3.00. —

THE PIANO AT HOME.

250 pages. Four hand pieces. Teachers and pupils will find this book a fruitful source of instruction and recreation, technically or artistically considered. Four-hand practice not only produces the best of results as to "time," but gives a force to the music which is truly wonderful, an effect rather difficult to be obtained by a single performer.

CONTENTS.

Anvil Chorus.	Il desiderio.
Birth-day ball Waltz.	Jolly Brothers' Galop.
Blue-Danube Waltz.	Maiden's Prayer.
Carabinier. Swiss March.	March of Men of Harlech.
Carnival of Venice.	Monastery Bell.
Dumbarton's Bonnie Dell March.	Musket Galop.
Echo of Lucerne.	Pestal.
Fairy Wedding Waltz Polka,	Qui Vive Galop.
First steps.	Shepherd Boy.
Her bright smile Waltz.	Signal March,

and 45 others.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

VOLUME I.

All the older standard pieces, not too difficult, which have retained their popularity through many years, will be found in Vol. I. of the Home Circle, the first of the instrumental series to be issued. It contains 216 pages, and about 150 pieces, of great service to teachers and pupils on account of its large variety of easy music, most of which is especially fitted as a means of recreation for beginners.

CONTENTS.

Aladdin Quickstep.	Elfin Waltz.
Annie Lawrie Quickstep.	Etude Mazurka.
Affection Waltz.	Fairy Bell Polka.
Aurora Waltz.	Flying Cloud Schottische.
Azalia Polka.	Gipsy Polka Quadrille.
Baden Baden Polka.	Magic Spell Schottische.
Basket Cotillon.	Requiem March.
Bohemian Girl Waltz.	Sliding Waltz.
Cinderella Waltz.	Sontag Polka.
Champagne Galop.	Spanish Retreat March.
Dream Waltz.	Un premier amour,

and about 140 (or, including simple airs, 170) others.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

VOLUME II.

The character of the music of Vol. II. is essentially the same as that found in Vol. I., the books being similar in design, the music carefully selected as to popularity and degree of difficulty, and a great variety of music incorporated, including a few four-hand arrangements—a popular number for general drawing-room use. 250 pages.

CONTENTS.

Admired Waltz.	Cherry Ripe Schottische.
Angelina Quadrille.	Clara Waltz.
Apollo Waltz.	Cuckoo Polka.
Apollo Waltz Quadrille.	En avant March.
Blossom Waltz.	Il Poluito Galop.

Boquet Schottische.	Orpheus Waltz Quadrille.
Brightest Eyes Galop.	Rigoletto Polka Redowa.
Canova Waltz.	Rogues' March.
Coaxing Polka.	Spirit Waltz.
Cecilia March.	Tric Trac Polka,

and about 120 others (including 22 four-hand pieces).

PARLOR MUSIC.

VOLUME I.

Parlor music must be not only popular and of a miscellaneous character, but must possess the merit of being fairly difficult without being too intricate in movement. A collection like either volume of Parlor Music, which can be thus commended, makes an acceptable and attractive addition to collections for popular recreation. Vol. I. contains 242 pages of moderately difficult music.

CONTENTS.

Always Ready.	Dream Land.	Madcap Polka.
Awakening.	Fairy Land.	Merry Foresters.
Beautiful Hudson.	Fare thee Well.	Morning Calls.
Belle Gitano.	Friendly Eyes.	Moss Rose.
Belle Jeunesse.	Golden Youth.	Rippling Bark.
Bluette.	Gipsy Dance.	Scotch Lassie.
Chant de Berger.	Happy New Year.	Shepherd's love song.
Congenial Hearts.	Jewel Box.	Sparkling Jewels.
Don Pasquale.	Lily of the Valley.	Venetian Regatta,

and about 35 others.

PARLOR MUSIC.

VOLUME II.

252 pages. The generous size of all the books of these series, admits of a great variety and quantity of first-class music being placed between the covers of each volume, and in this particular one, as well as others, the 60 or more pieces will be found to be not only convenient in length, but, in many cases, to contain a wealth of little airs in the way of "extras," of which nothing could be said in the table of contents.

CONTENTS.

Balancelle.	Dance of Love.	Little Warblers.
Bashful Polka.	Don't stop Galop.	Snow-ball Galop.
Cascade Waltz.	Egyptian March.	Speak to me.
Chilperic Waltz.	Gazza Ladra.	The Glide Waltz.
Cleopatra Waltz.	Heimweh.	The Skylark,
Dame Blanche.	Huguenots.	and about 40 others.

LA CREME DE LA CREME.

VOLUME I.

The very many fine pieces which were published from time to time in a music periodical with the above title, have been gathered together in a more permanent form, in two volumes, and placed before the public, confident that they will be found to be most admirably adapted to the needs of the more progressive pupil, and containing the choicest compositions of such authors as Rubenstein, Oester Voss, Kuhe, Hess, Liszt, Thalberg, Lange, Krug and others.

CONTENTS.

Alpine Horn.	Graziosa.	Sleep, my Child.
Blumenlied.	Happy Sounds.	The break of day.
Cujus Animam.	May Breezes.	The Angel's Dream.
Dancing Leaves.	On the Sea.	The Merry Huntsman.
Dein Eigen.	Puritani.	Visions of Paradise.
Elegy of Tears.	Petit Ronet.	Westward Ho! Galop.
Flash Galop.	Ruins d'Athene.

and 25 other pieces quite as good

LA CREME DE LA CREME.

VOLUME II.

The best works of more than a score of celebrated composers have been drawn upon to make up a book, which, like Vol. I., should contain only first-class pieces of medium intricacy, best suited to the capacity and skill of students considerably advanced.

CONTENTS.

Air Castles.	Crepuscule.	Lucia.
Among the Roses.	Evening Dew.	Murmuring Rivolet.
Barcarole.	Fairy Whispers.	Pluie de Fleurs.
Belle Italie.	Forest Hymn.	Prayer from Moses.
Chasse (La).	Gazelle.	The Dream.
Con Amore.	Heavenly Voices.	The Zephyr,
	Homeward bound.

and about 25 more pieces of fine quality.

FOUNTAIN OF GEMS.

The nature of this collection is well put in the brief announcement which stands alone upon its covers, a "Fountain of Gems." No further description is necessary. It is replete with an almost endless variety of easy and pleasing music selected with care and entirely in good taste.

CONTENTS.

Amazon March.	Equestrian March.	Sighing for home
Azure sky Waltz.	Enchanting Galop.	Snow-bell Polka.
Clara Waltz.	Favorite Mazurka.	Sunbeam Galop.
Clarion Polka.	Forget-me-not.	Troubadour March
Ecstasy Waltz.	Hortensia Mazurka.	Ye Merry Birds
	Let's be gay.

and about 80 others.

THE ORGAN AT HOME.

The 200 pieces, carefully selected with due regard as to their adaptability to the instrument in question, make the Organ at Home a valuable number, and of such sterling merit as to at once commend it to its every reader.

CONTENTS.

Adagio.	Evening Reverie.
Andante Graziosa.	Fredonia March.
Air from "William Tell."	Funeral March.
Angel's trio. "Elijah."	Gaily thro' Life.
Blue Eyes.	Golden Leaf Schottische.
Blue-bells of Scotland.	Herdman's Mountain Home.
Beautiful Bells Waltz.	How so Fair. (M'Appari.)
Dead March in "Saul."	In happy Moments.
Deux Aux (Les).	It is better to Laugh,
Elegy of Tears.	and about 200 others.

HANDY BOOKS OF REFERENCE

ON MUSICAL SUBJECTS,

The best of memories of the best of musicians need, at times, to be refreshed. The books here mentioned answer the greater part of all possible musical questions.

Moore's Encyclopedia of Music. Price, $5.00

By JOHN W. MOORE. Mr. Moore has, for many years, been a diligent collector of items on musical subjects. A selection from these fills this large and comprehensive book, which contains biographical notices of as many as 2,000 noted musical people, and also plain definitions or explanations of most of the technical words used by composers.

Dictionary of Musical Information. . . Price, $1.25

By JOHN W. MOORE. This dictionary contains the most important part of what is also in the greater book, but here in a condensed and cheaper form.

Dictionary of Musical Terms. Price, $4.00

By STAINER and BARRETT. Not a dictionary at all; unless the definitions of the marks of expressions, etc., make it so. It is a very complete readable and entertaining ENCYCLOPEDIA, with long treatises on theory, on the structure of the vocal organs, on the history and mechanism of the Piano-forte and other musical instruments;—in fact, on all things you will be likely to need, in the way of explanation. There is abundance of illustration by pictures, and by phrases of printed music.

Ludden's Pronouncing Dictionary of Musical Terms. Price, $1.25

By WILLIAM LUDDEN. This is a true dictionary, well arranged and complete, giving all terms in common use, their definitions, and the pronunciation in the original language in which they were made.

5,000 Musical Terms. Price, 75 cts.

By JOHN S. ADAMS. A still more condensed list, making a convenient pocket dictionary.

Peters' Burrowes' Piano Primer. . . . Price, 50 cts.

This is a simple sort of catechism, explaining the notes and, in general, what used to be called the "rudiments" of music. Very many elementary teachers use it for their younger pupils, and sales have been very large. Excellent little books of a similar character, are:

Jousse's Catechism of Music. Price, 20 cts.

Lenhart's Elements of Music. Price, 50 cts.

Musical Forms. By E. FAUER. Price, $1.00

Musical Scale. By H. P. BIDDLE. Price, $1.50

Outline of Musical Form. W.S.B. MATHEWS. Price, .60

Are all good treatises on the subjects mentioned.

Johnson's New Method of Harmony. . . Price, $1.00

By A. N. JOHNSON. Is conspicuously a good book to read and refer to, as it explains in the plainest, easiest and most interesting manner, the art of composing easy music. The book is also a capital text-book.

Richter's Harmony. Price, $2.00

Richter's Fugue. Price, $2.00

Richter's Counterpoint. Price, $2.00

Are all standard books of reference, for the higher branches of composition.

Lowell Mason's Pestalozzian Music Teacher.

Price, $2.00; and his little book, "HOW SHALL I TEACH?" (38 cts.) let one in detail into the manner of teaching of one who, in his day, was a power in the musical world.

Chorus Choir Instruction Book. Price, $1.25

By A. N. JOHNSON. Explains in the author's wonderfully simple manner, his remarkable system of instructing singing classes and choirs. A most valuable system, as applied to musical communities as they average in America.

Mars's General Music Instructor. . . . Price, $2.50

By a veteran German theorist. Is a serviceable "talk" about a large part of the things a learner should know.

Ritter's History of Music. . . Two volumes. Each, $1.50

Is a condensed view of the whole progress of the wonderful art since the beginning of the Christian Era.

Elson's Curiosities of Music. Price, $1.00

Deals with ancient music in China, and in other old communities, and is a learned treatise written in a most charming and entertaining style.

Biographical Sketches of Eminent Musical Composers. Price, $1.75

By MADAME URBINO. Is a notable book, as affording in moderate space, a view of the lives of nearly all the people who have literally made modern music.

INSTRUCTION BOOKS

can hardly be classed as books of reference. Still, as we cannot conceive of a reading book to teach the piano or any other instrument, one must glean his theories from the text of instructors. Ditson & Co. publish hundreds of these, including most of those that are published for all instruments. Lists and descriptions cheerfully furnished.

Any book mailed, post-free, for its retail price, which is the one here mentioned.
